

Thieves

~verse I~

They came one night and stole our dreams
We watched them float away downstream
Drifting into the future...

Liberty was next in line, Freedom followed close behind
We really should have seen the signs
Heading into the future, into the future...

~bridge I~

You know it could be lies, you never realise
How they justify life's illusions

You know you should be strong, but yeah life goes on
And all the while they are taking our chance (taking our chances)

So tell me the Truth

~verse II~

And then one day it came, the death of all that's sane
Falling softly like summer rain
Could this be the future? Really the future?

And through the coming storm these thoughts may keep you warm
We never really had a choice
'Cause this is the future... Yeah, welcome to the future

~bridge II~

You know it could be lies, you never realise
How they justify life's illusions

You know you should be strong, but yeah life goes on
And all the while they are taking our chance (stealing our chances)

So tell me the Truth

~solo~

~bridge III~

You know it could be lies, you never realise
How they justify life's illusions

You know you should be strong, but yeah life goes on
And all the while they are taking our chance (taking our chances)

So tell us the Truth

~outro chorus I~

No lying, denying... contriving to distort the truth
No cheating, misleading... deceiving burying the proof

No hiding, deriding... deciding it's all just a game
No twisting, resisting... insisting we're the ones to blame

No lying, denying... contriving to distort the truth
No cheating, misleading... deceiving us now - tell us the truth.
